Hi my name is Megan,

I am PACT’s Adopter Champion team leader. When you contact us I will put you in touch with the most appropriate Adopter Champion.

Adopter Champions are parents who have adopted children and have built up a wealth of experience and in-depth knowledge of the adoption process and hands-on experience of the joys and challenges of raising adopted children.

We are not social workers or counsellors but we are here to offer other adopters and prospective adopters support on a range of issues, including:

- Adopting siblings
- Adopting older children
- Single parent adoption
- LGBT adoption
- Behavioural support, such as eating, sleeping, aggression, anxiety, regression and general behaviour that is deemed as challenging
- Helping children to understand their own story and revisiting this at different ages
- Educational support in nursery and school settings
- Accessing funding for your child

We can draw on the advice and support of PACT’s FACTS and Strengthening Families teams so can also help you access more expert support if you need it.

We want to support you at every stage of your journey.

See overleaf to find out more about each of our Adopter Champions and the expertise experience they offer.

Megan
Megan is married to Charles and has two sons, her birth son is aged 19 and her adopted son is aged 17. She has 11 years of adoption experience. Megan can help if you have children with Early Developmental Trauma or Attachment Disorder, problems in school or if you are considering home-educating as well as the puberty years, the teens and betweens.

“Think of adoption as a journey and focus on the end goal - a well-adjusted young adult capable of achieving the best that they can achieve. That journey may not be plain sailing but with you as a consistent parent, there championing your child, supporting them to heal and achieve, you will be surprised at just how far your child can develop.”

Mark
Mark with his partner Laurence adopted a sibling group four years ago, a brother and sister who are now 9 and 10 years old. Mark is a specialist teacher for looked after/adopted children and in special educational needs who can assist you in navigating the education system. He can also help in answering questions about LGBT and sibling adoption.

“Having two children move in with us and to become their parents has been completely life changing. Despite the challenges and hurdles along the way, every day we are thankful for the joys that our children bring to our lives and those magic moments of being proud parents.”

Sue
Sue is married to Jim and she has nine adopted children. Her children are aged between 18 and 38 and she has 29 years of adoption experience.

“Adoption has been the most amazing roller-coaster of ups and downs that has taught me so much. Even when things are tough I try to focus on the end game of helping my children to heal and become well-adjusted, functioning and happy adults. I have learned that this journey is a marathon, not a sprint and that as a family we can achieve much. I am happy to support adopters as they navigate their journey, however challenging it might be.”

Theresa
Theresa is married and adopted her daughter from China in 2010 (now 11 years old). They have two fostered children - her son is aged 16 and her daughter is aged 13 - and they are both permanent members of the family now.

“I am a trained therapeutic life story practitioner and therefore have a good understanding of how children such as ours communicate via their behaviour, which can be extremely difficult for us to understand and respond to therapeutically at times. I hope my knowledge and lived experiences can reassure and support other adopters – I’m looking forward to speaking with you!”
